Dear Readers,

Spring is in the air! The birds are singing and the countryside everywhere is busy!

This month we want to remember even though the birds are chirpy, not all of us feel the same. May is 'Teen Self-Esteem Month' and we'd like to shine a little light on the issue, particularly as many teens are suffering with their mental health due to events of the last year. Those who had been preparing for exams are particularly in our thoughts.

We grown-ups have many coping strategies and when we weren't a little glass of wine on occasion helped to get us through. We thought we'd exhausted all the options, but it seems not... read on as we have a recipe for white wine cookies! Oh you are so very welcome indeed! Don't mention it! The perfect beer-garden treat!

*Be kind to yourselves and look after each other,

Burton Prostate Support Group

It is a sad fact that 1 in 8 European men will be diagnosed with Prostate Cancer at sometime within their lifetime. Prostate Cancer can be found in men of 50 years and onwards, with the majority of Prostate cancers being diagnosed in men in their mid 60's. As a result of the recent increase in men being diagnosed with Prostate Cancer, something additional was needed to complement the clinical treatment for this disease and this additional something was 'Peer Support'.

Being diagnosed with a cancer is a devastating experience, earth shattering for the recipient. On reaching home following a diagnosis, many of us will feel alone, frightened and unsure of what the future may hold. The newly diagnosed sufferer may wish to talk with family or friends, or with someone who has already been diagnosed and being treated for Prostate Cancer. This is commonly known as Peer Support. Although there are many types of peer support available, the local support group format tends to be the most helpful and accessible.

The Burton Prostate Cancer Support Group (BPCSG) was founded in the January of 2017, being the brainchild of a Urological Surgeon working out of the Queens Hospital, Burton. This highly experienced surgeon decided, for patients coming through her clinics and having been diagnosed with Prostate Cancer, Peer Support could be their lifeline, allowing them to meet and talk with men who have already been treated for this dreadful disease. Following a meeting at Pirelli Stadium, Burton with 24 recent Prostatectomy patients in attendance, 2 appointee volunteers agreed to commence the setting up of the Burton PCSG, designed to be run on a 'for the patients, by the patients' basis. This new support group being independent from the NHS. Through the 5 years the Burton PCSG has been in existence, this group has not only become extremely successful, it has also helped support many patients from as far away as Derby, Ashby, Rugeley, Tamworth, plus all towns and villages within the East and South Staffordshire region. The group also visits health fairs and goes out into the community providing Prostate cancer awareness presentations to various organisations. The group's constitutional aims are kept simple, being:

- Supporting Prostate cancer sufferers
- Raising Prostate cancer awareness

The Burton PCSG are a non-clinical group of patients who meet at least once a month, aiming to hold their meetings usually on the 1st Monday in every month. Should there be a Bank Holiday Monday in the month, the meeting is moved to the 2nd Monday. New members, together with their partners, are always made extremely welcome. However, due to current Covid restrictions, the group still meet every month, but on-line using Zoom conferencing software.

If you have been recently diagnosed with Prostate Cancer and are concerned, or perhaps need advice on Prostate cancer awareness, why not contact the BPCSG directly on 07478 889577, or write to them at burton.prostate.cancer.support@gmail.com.

For more information contact Burton Prostate Cancer Support Group via email: burton.prostate.cancer.support@gmail.com or phone: 07478 889577

Teen Self Esteem

May is National Teen Self Esteem Month and is a great opportunity to raise awareness of the importance of ensuring our teens are self aware and feel confident about themselves. The effect that their self esteem has on their physical and mental well being is of paramount importance and a crucial focus of the awareness month.

The teenage years are a notoriously difficult time for the majority of young people and therefore this is a fantastic way of checking in and ensuring we are doing everything that we can to support and nurture the teens in our lives- be it family or friends. On top of the physical, hormonal and emotional changes going on, teens also have to contend with the added pressures of the current pandemic, social changes, new relationships, increased educational expectations, peer pressure and impossible societal standards perpetuated by the media, society and often parents.

Self esteem is often easily damaged and difficult to repair, so with the added complication of being a teenager it is highly understandable that teenagers can be particularly fragile.

More young people are seeking counselling to help them deal with low self-esteem and loneliness, according to new figures from ChildLine.

ChildLine reports an increase of 10% in counselling sessions for young people dealing with low self-esteem between April 2020 and January 2021. That's over 50,000 counselling sessions.

The young people surveyed said that the internet had an ever-growing influence on their lives. Many said constant comparisons to others on social media made them feeling inferior, ugly and unpopular.

Despite the pressures from the internet, the study shows that young people are also using online options more and more when it comes to getting help.

There are many ways that we can engage more positively with teenagers and the character of the individual young person may respond more effectively to particular expertise and knowledge, however there are some really simple ways in which we can promote positive self esteem. And these tips aren't restricted to assisting only teenagers. Perhaps we could all make use of them:

Lead by example

- Avoid negative self talk and criticism.
- Ensure you have open lines of communication – and if you don't, get advice on how to create this.
- Ensure you can be trusted
- Guide and advise encouraging their own decision making within reasonable parameters.
- Give them space
- Listen and take an interest in their developing lives.

Sometimes just a chat and some special time with your teen is enough to encourage and strengthen their self esteem.

Still Loved

SANDS (Stillbirth and Neonatal death charity) Awareness Month 2021 is in June, and is an annual event aims to raise awareness of the facts and impacts relating to neonatal deaths and stillbirths. The loss of a child in pregnancy or childbirth affects parents for life, but the wider public are not always aware of the full impact of such a tragedy.

SANDS month was created to raise funds as well as awareness, to support research into neonatal death. Often the causes of death are unknown, but many neonatal deaths and stillbirths have no apparent cause, which is an extra anguish to the bereaved parents. Up to 15 babies a day die during pregnancy and labour or shortly after birth in the UK.

Sands supports anyone who has been affected by the death of a baby before, during or shortly after birth. Bereavement support is at the core of everything they do.

The awareness month offers vital fundraising opportunities to ensure that the money is raised to provide that vital support, to make sure that parents can cope with the bereavement as best possible and understand that they are not to blame for the baby's death when sometimes there are no answers as to why it happened and to help them to keep coping with life during a difficult time that sometimes others around them may struggle to understand or know what to say.

By The Barn by Angela Sargent

Birdsong will be increasing in volume by now, as nests are feathered, mates are found and fought over and eggs are laid. Nests are found in all sorts of places at times and not necessarily in the nesting box put up especially for them – we found one at sheep level in the back of a lambing pen and, unfortunately it didn't survive a hungry sheep.

Ted has paid a visit to the vet to get his annual jabs and MOT and passed with flying colours, even though he got caught by a flying kick from a young steer on turnout day. As a working dog and a crucial part of the team, it is important he is kept in tip top condition and, just as importantly, wormed regularly.

There is a serious parasite which dogs can carry (and suffer ill health from) and can pass on to cattle (and vice versa) causing abortion and illness- Neospora. That's why it's important to pick up dog poop!

All Walks of Life

It's no surprise that the benefits of walking to school are being pushed harder than ever by Living Streets, the UK charity that sells the benefits of two feet over four wheels. Childhood obesity is now a bigger issue than ever in the UK, so the chance to get a few more Chelsea tractors off the roads for a five-day spell could make all the difference for the future health of kids around the UK.

The fun and engaging week-long activity for primary schools has been built to make pupils experience first-hand the importance of walking to school. Children will be well on their way to reaching their recommended 60 minutes minimum of physical activity per day before even reaching the school gates! Not only will it set them up for a positive day in the classroom, but it will also help create healthy habits for life.

Every year for a five-day spell, Living Streets creates a themed challenge for schoolchildren and their significant others to take on while they're doing the school walk. It's become incredibly popular, too; in 2017 alone, 400,000 children and their families took part in the challenge.

There is agreement on the need to travel more sustainably, both for our health and to tackle the climate emergency. This is reflected in the Government's announcement of £2 billion for walking and cycling over the next five years and a string of policy announcements to support the 2021 UN Climate Change Conference in Glasgow.

During the COVID-19 lockdown, millions of people rediscovered the simple act of walking – the oldest, cheapest and greenest transport there is. But the pandemic saw people struggling with narrow, uneven pavements, crossings that prioritise cars rather than people, and pavement parking.

The pandemic has highlighted inequalities. People from Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic groups and low income groups – already at greater risk from traffic collisions and air pollution – have been disproportionately affected by the disease. The loneliness of older and disabled people has got worse.

The Government's renewed commitment to walking and cycling during the pandemic is encouraging, through its £250 million Emergency Active Travel Fund, the launch of Gear Change and, its support for local authorities to deliver long-term change.

The upcoming Transport Decarbonisation Plan, Spending Review, Bus Strategy and the second Cycling and Walking Investment Strategy should set out a positive future for walking.

So there really is no excuse!

Walk to School Week 2021 is 17th -21st May.

Dog Theft by Scarsdale Vets

Dogs are the most commonly owned pet in UK households. With more and more households choosing to own a dog, the popularity of dogs has sadly led to a rise in dog theft. Fortunately, there are a number of preventative steps you can take to reduce the chances of your dog being stolen.

Preventative Measures

Even the most basic of security steps can help to reduce the risk of your pet being stolen.

- Avoid leaving your dog unattended outside in a public space or in your car
- Secure your garden. If you do have a gate, fit a lock
- Try not to leave your dog unsupervised in the garden
- Installing security cameras can act as a deterrent. If dog thefts are common in your area, this may be something to consider.

Protecting Your Dog From Dog Theft

- Ensure that your dog is microchipped. All puppies must be microchipped by 8 weeks of age by law, and definitely before they leave their breeder
- Avoid putting your dog's name on their ID tag
- Take plenty of photos of your dog
- Make sure your dog is wearing a collar and has an accurate ID tag
- Keep your contact details updated, if you change your phone number or move house, be sure to update the information on your dog's ID tag

● Recall training is particularly important. Spend time practicing this and if it's safer, keep your dog on a lead.

What should I do if my dog goes missing?

In the unfortunate event that your dog does go missing, you should report this immediately. Below is a checklist of who you should inform as soon as possible;

- The Police via 101
- Your neighbours
- Local community online pages
- Your local council
- Your vet and other local practices
- Local animal rescue centres
- The database with which your dog's microchip is registered.

Delivering vital care and support during these challenging times

Covid-19 is a major concern for our clients and their families, even more so when they cannot be together. So we train our carers to help you stay connected to loved ones with regular facetime calls on sanitised smart phones or ipads. Carers follow all the current guidelines and always wear appropriate PPE. Additional infection control training means that you can be assured they will continue to deliver meticulous standards of hygiene when providing essential care and support, including companion and social care, personal and specialist care, post hospital stay and palliative care.

British Tipple

Ah, British wine the most famous of all the continental blends. Yet sarcasm aside, it's not exactly a small industry any more. According to Wines of Great Britain the organisers of English Wine Week (falling on the 23rd to the 30th of May) there are no fewer than 577 vineyards across the UK. While the colder climes might be a little sparser on the wine front Scotland has four, the north has 19 and Wales has 23 the south-east alone has 152 and the south-west has 136. So in the spirit of the week, here are a few recipes to try... because you don't have to just drink it!

White Wine Biscuits

Know as Rollitos de Vino Blanco and no, not savoury! Sweet! A popular treat in Italy, Spain and Slovakia!

Ingredients:

- 270g plain flour
- 100g caster sugar
- 80ml light olive oil
- 80ml white wine
- half a teaspoon of sea salt
- a quarter of a teaspoon baking powder
- icing sugar for dusting

Method:

- Combine all the dry ingredients (except for the icing sugar) in a mixing bowl and mix.

- Add the oil and wine to the flour mixture and combine into a dough.

- Roll the dough into a sausage and cut into 20 equal size pieces.

- Form these into balls. Using your finger or the end of a wooden spoon, make a hole in the middle of each ball and stretch the hole more.

- Place them onto a baking tray lined with baking paper/silicone mat. Bake at 350°F/180°C/140°C fan assisted for 25 minutes or until the bottoms are golden brown.

- Let them cool down a bit before coating them in icing sugar.
