Dear Readers,

June already and summer is finally here! Lets hope its here to stay so that we can enjoy being outside, and what better way than with a picnic! This month we see National Picnic Week sneak upon us, so if like us you're a fan of all things pastry, why not give our picnic bites a go?

We also take a look at Armed Forces Day which falls on the 26th of June. There's more to it than just celebrating serving members, so read on to find out more.

If you've got children and are struggling to fill their days with amusement, you're in luck, this month we also see Children's Art Week make an appearance, so you're sure to get some inspiration for activities!

Stay safe and happy,

Picnic Pastries

National Picnic Week 2021 takes place this year between 19th - 27th June. What better way to spend a lazy summers afternoon, responsibly social distancing, than in a lovely location with your family, playing games and tucking in to a picnic.

Although the concept of the picnic originated in France, the British have very much taken it to their hearts. An inexpensive day out, a picnic provides the chance for quality family time playing traditional games such as rounders or just relaxing with a good book.

The only real rule of a picnic is to tidy up when you leave. Apart from that the beauty of the picnic is it can be personalised to suit every family. So whether you are a traditionalist in the food you pack or an adventurous foodie, the important thing is just to be outside having fun.

Ricotta & Spinach Squares

Ingredients

375g pack ready-rolled puff pastry

100g bag young leaf spinach
150g ricotta
1 large free-range egg, beaten
20g freshly grated Parmesan

Method

- Preheat the oven to 220C/ 200C Fan. Cut the puff pastry evenly into 4 rectangles.
- Put the spinach in a colander and pour over boiling water to wilt. Cool under cold water then really squeeze out the water. Tip into a bowl and mix with ricotta, beaten egg, parmesan and season to taste.
- Spoon onto 1 half of each pastry rectangle and brush the edges with beaten egg. Fold the pastry over the filling, seal with a fork and transfer to a baking sheet. Brush with more beaten egg and bake for 15-20 minutes, until risen and golden.

Chorizo Chicken Puff Rolls

This recipe is great for using up leftover pasta sauce!

Ingredients:

200g leftover pasta sauce
1 cold cooked chicken breast
or pack of cooked chicken
50g finely chopped chorizo

320 g pack ready-rolled puff pastry
1 egg - lightly beaten (this will be your egg wash)
1 tsp black sesame or nigella seeds

Method:

- Preheat the oven to 200C/ 180C Fan.
- Mix together your pasta sauce, shredded chicken and finely chopped chorizo.
- Unroll the pastry and slice in half lengthways.
- Spoon chicken-chorizo mixture down the middle of the two lengths of pastry. Brush the edges with egg wash and fold the pastry over, so the edges meet. Use a fork to press down the edges.
- Brush the tops of the two long rolls of pastry with egg wash, then slice each roll into 9 or 10 pieces.
- Sprinkle with the seeds and transfer the pastry pieces to a large, non-stick baking sheet - leaving at least ½ an inch of space between each pastry.
- Place in the oven and cook for 15 - 20 minutes, until golden brown.
- Remove from the oven, allow to cool for 5 minutes (or completely if preferred) and serve.

Celebrating Our Armed Services

Armed Forces Day is a chance to show your support for the men and women who make up the Armed Forces community: from currently serving troops to Service families, veterans and cadets. There are many ways for people, communities and organisations across the country to show their support and get involved. Armed Forces Day takes place on the last Saturday each June - this year on the 26th.

Showing support for the Armed Forces provides a much valued morale boost for the troops and their families. The public show their support for the Armed Forces on Armed Forces Day, but did you know the Armed Forces Covenant outlines how the Government, businesses and communities support Armed Forces personnel past and present throughout the year?

So who does Armed Forces Day celebrate?

Currently Serving Members

The UK Armed Forces defend the UK and its interests. They are busy working around the world, promoting peace, delivering aid, tackling drug smugglers, providing security and fighting terrorism.

Veterans

A veteran is anyone who has served in the HM Armed Forces at any time (including National Servicemen, Regulars and Reserves). Armed Forces Day celebrates their continued role within the military community.

You can find out more information about support for Veterans on the Veterans-UK website or by calling Veterans UK on 0808 1914 218.

Reservists

Reservists give up their spare time to serve in the Reserve Forces, balancing their civilian life with a military career to ensure that should their country require them, they would be ready to serve.

An annual Reserves Day celebrates their contribution to the Armed Forces. Reserves Day is the Wednesday ahead of Armed Forces Day - 23 June.

Cadets

The Cadet Forces (Sea Cadets, Army Cadets, Air Cadets and the Combined Cadet Force) currently support over 130,000 young people in more than 3,000 locations across the UK. Cadets learn life and career building skills as well as gaining vocational qualifications.

Families

Our Armed Forces couldn't do their job without the incredible support of their family and friends.

Charities

Although Armed Forces Day is not a charitable event, the Armed Forces have the support of several UK charities and many local events will offer opportunities to support them. To find out more about Armed Forces charities please see here.

By The Barn by Angela Sargent

June already and yet, where did spring go? Warmth and a few nightly showers to help grass and crops grow tall will be very welcome!

Farmers all over are limbering up for silage making if they haven't already started- machinery checked and filled, trailers hitched and everyone waiting for the off. Silage preserves the grass for the winter- a bit like making pickles when there is a glut, that you can bring out when there's a lack in winter. It provides feed for livestock and isn't as reliant on the weather as hay making, but it doesn't need rubbish lurking in the long grass- fly tipped grass clippings/ wood and plastic get incorporated into the silage if it isn't spotted and can contaminate the end product, causing illness or even death of the animal.

If you're out this summer and its warm, you will see the Buzzards high up, circling on the thermals, calling eerily and, if you look down, maybe small animals or birds dashing out of your way.

Children's Art Week

Running from June 28th - 18th July, schools, galleries, museums and community groups will be running visual arts activities for children and families. These activities give children and young people, together with their teachers, parents and carers, the opportunity to take part in practical art activities with artists, makers and educators.

Over the past months, the COVID-19 pandemic has highlighted how essential creativity and the visual arts are for learning, connecting and wellbeing. While our venues, cultural organisations and some school buildings may be closed, engaging in the visual arts is more important than ever.

Bringing Children and Art together for Children's Art Week takes place in the UK and is organised by Engage. All over the country various events will be held, giving young people and children the opportunity to get involved in a range of art activities.

What is Engage?

Engage provides support and training for gallery education. Gallery education refers to a field which works to widen access to the visual arts for everyone. It works with gallery owners and visual arts organisations. The aim is to encourage families, young people, disabled people, older people and early years groups to be more engaged with visual arts.

How Children's Art Week is Celebrated

Engage invites various organisations such as schools, museums, galleries and community groups to organise various visual arts events. Support is provided for organisers with regards planning, running and advertising events.

Teachers who want to take part in the celebration can get hints and tips if they want to plan a gallery visit. There are also ideas to include any gallery visits into the curriculum plan and to take the idea further.

Run an Event!

If you have activities, a campaign or programme already in action, think about how you can respond to this year's themes and join in!

All registered events or activities, excluding private events registered by schools or organisations, must be free or low cost to participate, and must be able to be accessed or distributed remotely. Organisers will receive support from Engage to plan, run and publicise their events or activities.

To take part visit:
www.engage.org/happenings/childrens-art-week

Plastic Not-so Fantastic

Join millions of people reducing their plastic waste. Plastic Free July is a global movement that helps millions of people be part of the solution to plastic pollution so we can have cleaner streets, oceans, and beautiful communities.

Plastic Free July provides resources and ideas to help you (and millions of others around the world) reduce single-use plastic waste everyday at home, work, school, and even at your local café!

The movement has inspired over 120 million participants in 177 countries. By making a small change you will collectively make a massive difference to our planet. Best of all, being part of Plastic Free July will help you to find great alternatives that can become new habits forever.

One of the most challenging things about creating a sustainable lifestyle is the amount of plastic in our life. Plastic isn't as bad as how we use it is and if we are sustainable with our practices and mindful a little can go a very long way.

Cloth Nappies: The vast majority of disposable nappies are not recyclable and by the time they are potty trained, it is estimated a baby could have used 4,000 to 6,000 disposable nappies.

Use Soap Bars: Do away with the plastic from shampoo, conditioner and bodywash bottles by opting for wash bars. Yes, you did read that correctly, you can get hair conditioner in bar form!

Bamboo toothbrushes: The World Health Organisation recommends replacing your toothbrush every 3 to 4 months, so switching to bamboo would save a lot of plastic waste for a family.

Buy second-hand clothes: Many manmade fibres used to make cloth are plastic based, so avoiding fast fashion and getting creative with charity shop finds will help the environment. If you are wedded to wearing brandnames, why not try visiting charity shops in affluent areas, you might be surprised at what designer clothes wind up being given away.

Grow some veggies: The garden is an incredible gift if you are fortunate enough to have one and when we grow our own food it does wonders for our connection to what we eat. Growing veggies will easily lower your supermarket packaging waste.

Use Silicone bags:

All the snacks and baggies used for lunches....ditch the baggies and invest slowly over time in silicone versions of these bags. They are much more hard wearing and washable. Did you know silicone's main ingredient is sand?

Buy from brands focused on healing the planet: If you have the means to make choices about the food you put on your table, choose brands that are doing it right. It sounds simple, but it really does make a difference. How a brand sources ingredients, the materials they use for packaging, how they honor farmers, and the emissions they put out are all big parts of our own footprint. Not everyone can do this, but if you can, even one or two items can shift demand and support what is doing things better.

Summer Safety by Scarsdale Vets

- Take your dog for walks at cooler times of day, not in the midday sun.
- Never leave your pet in the car, even with the windows open
- Ask a neighbour to check on your pet if they are kept outside
- Use fans to increase air circulation
- Add ice cubes to water to keep it cooler for longer
- Cover rabbits or guinea pig cages with a wet towel and put them in the shade
- Wet your pet with a hose pipe if they are panting heavily
- Spray small animals with a fine mist of water

- Keep your pet inside when possible
 - Provide two bowls of water in case one gets knocked over
 - Make sure your pet has a shaded area to relax in
 - When barbecuing, keep your pet away from leftover bones or other foods that could get stuck in their digestive tract
