ISSUE 161

Dear Readers,

We hope you've been enjoying the bright spring weather over the last few weeks. It makes the inevitable April showers bearable... just look for the rainbows!

It's officially British Summertime and along with it comes a host of British summertime traditions. We've got some fab events that you can visit with the family this year and we take a look at some May Day traditions peculiar to Staffordshire and Derbyshire.

Spring is the time for nesting, if you've found yourself with a little addition to your family, did you know 4th-9th May is Weaning Week? Moving babies onto solid food can be a minefield, so we've got a helpful article on what to avoid feeding too soon to keep your baby happy and healthy!

We love to hear from our readers, so why not give us a follow on Facebook and share your local stories with us!

Our very best wishes,

Be a Birdy's Best Friend

Not only is May the 4th (be with you) Starwars Day, it's also Bird Day!

During the spring, migrating birds move to their summer nesting grounds. It's an excellent time for those new to birdwatching to learn to identify birds by species. Enthusiasts also know that birds will migrate through gardens and stop for a rest, a bite to eat, and a drink if the right habitat is provided. Stand prepared by your window with binoculars and watch as new visitors arrive daily. At this time of year birds are also nesting with the last of the frosts safely out of the way. Rearing young is exhausting and a plentiful supply of food is important.

Did you know that certain birds favour different foods?...

Small seeds, such as millet, attract mostly house sparrows, dunnocks, finches, reed buntings and collared doves.

Flaked maize is loved by blackbirds.

Peanuts and sunflower seeds are the food of choice of tits and greenfinches.

Mixes that contain chunks or whole nuts are suitable for winter feeding only.

Pinhead oatmeal is excellent for many birds.

Avoid seed mixtures that have split peas, beans, dried rice or lentils as along with wheat and barley only the large species like pheasants, pigeons and doves can eat them dry. These are added to some cheaper seed mixes to bulk them up.

Also avoid any mixture containing green or pink lumps as these are dog biscuit, which can only be eaten when soaked.

peanut butter onto a pinecone and rolling in birdseed? You can also spread it onto slices of fruit like apple and hang from trees for a variety of treats.

You can also mix suet with birdseed and press into hollowed out orange halves for another hanging alternative.

Mealworms are a great natural food for birds and can be used to feed them throughout the year.

For more information on bird species you'll see in your garden and what to feed them, visit the RSPB website here: www.rspb.org.uk

Both smooth and crunchy peanut butter can be fed to the birds in your garden.

Why not make some natural bird feeders by smearing some

Here Comes the Aeroplane!

Anyone who has a new baby will understand how anxious a time what and when to feed their little one can be. Weaning week is 4th-9th of May and there is lots of information out there to help make sure your baby's transition to solid food is a smooth one. The NHS website provides tip and recipes to help you navigate what is best for baby. <https://www.nhs.uk/start4life/weaning/>

Here are a couple of recipes that can be used for the whole family that you may like to try.

Creamy Hotpot

This tasty chicken hotpot dinner with leeks and cream cheese is a great family all-rounder – perfect for your baby too. You can also freeze any leftovers.

Age: 7-9 mths
Serves: 4 portions
Prep time: 15 mins
Cooking time: 20-25 mins
Suitable for vegetarians? N

Ingredients

- ½ medium leek
- ½ medium carrot, peeled
- 1 small potato, peeled
- 1 tbsp green beans
- 1 small chicken breast fillet
- ½ tbsp vegetable oil
- 150ml water
- 1 small spear broccoli
- 1 tbsp full fat cream cheese

Method

1. Chop the leeks, carrots and potatoes. Trim and chop the beans.

2. Dice the chicken.

3. Heat the oil in a large pan. Add the chicken and fry for 2-3 minutes.

4. Now add the leeks, carrots, potatoes, green beans and water, bring to the boil, cover and simmer for about 20 minutes until the chicken and vegetables are cooked. If you'd like extra sauce, add a little more water during cooking.

5. Meanwhile, bring a small pan of water to the boil, add the broccoli and cook for 3-4 minutes until soft (or microwave if you prefer).

6. Turn the hotpot off the heat and stir in the cream cheese.

7. Blend or mash the cooked hot pot until it is smooth with soft lumps. Serve ¼ of the hotpot with the cooked broccoli as a finger food.

Mashed Beany Wrap

An interesting sandwich alternative, five bean salad blended with cheese and served wrapped in a tortilla. This recipe is great as a healthier snack for older children in the family to enjoy too. For over 5s simply swap to reduced fat hard cheese.

Age: 12 mths +

Serves: 1 portion

Prep time: 15 mins

Cooking time: N/A

Suitable for vegetarians? Y

Ingredients

- 50g (3.3 tbsp) canned five bean salad, no added sugar and salt, drained
- 15g full fat hard cheese, grated
- 1 small (or ½ a large) tortilla wrap (30g)
- 1 tbsp lettuce (5g)
- 1 wedge red pepper, washed and sliced into sticks
- Finger length stick celery, washed and sliced into thinner sticks

Method

1. Mash the mixed beans with a fork

2. Grate the cheese and roughly chop the lettuce.

3. Divide the beans between the wraps and top with some cheese.

4. Roll up and slice as needed.

5. Slice the red pepper and celery into finger sticks, and serve alongside the bean wrap.

By The Barn by Angela Sargent

Spring has sprung, finally! Longer days, lighter nights and warmer weather heralds a sprin in grass growth.

Our ewes are well into lambing and the mothers and young lambs will be turned out into the bigger fields, to take advantage of the extra grass available to them. Until our older pasture gets growing (it's always slower than the newer varieties), we may have to supplement them with some silage or hay and corn, just to make sure they're having enough to milk well.

Tiredness is a problem for farmers, at this time of year, with late nights lambing and long days working. This is when we have to be especially careful from a health and safety aspect.

The Front field pasture is covered in celandines, with Buttercups beginning to grow too, along the ridge and furrow and the line of stout Ash trees give shelter to the cattle if the wind bites.

The neighbouring field, 'Horse close', probably named as it used to belong to the neighbouring farm (a farm no longer) and was possibly where the work horses were kept, has been sown with a temporary grass, hopefully, to provide us with extra grazing for our sheep and lambs or we might make silage of it. Field names are interesting and can give an indication of previous use or a historical meaning and we have our fair share as does every farm.

Any of last year's male lambs that are still here will be weighed regularly and sent to market asap, preferably before they get two teeth.

Ted is now seven and knows when he can get close to the sheep and when he must keep his distance. Having been on the wrong end of an angry and protective ewe, he has learnt to keep well away from sheep when they have lambs at foot!

You Snooze You Lose

Did you know that snoring noise and sleep disturbance is it a threat to our health? This April we've got 'National Stop Snoring Week' taking place from 18th to 22nd April.

The sound of snoring is irritating and annoying and can lead to sleep deprivation for the bed partner. But the noise of snoring can also cause a number of health problems.

We all know how it feels if we have not had a good night's sleep – we feel tired and sleepy all day, bad tempered, lacking concentration, and generally irritable. Bed partners who are disturbed every night by snoring they experience these symptoms every day.

The noise level that starts to have an effect on sleep is around 40dB. The noise of snoring can range from about 50dB to 100+dB, and research has consistently found that when exposed to noise at these levels, it can have a negative effect on all areas of our wellbeing.

Noise at night has become a major problem, and many people consider that a good night's sleep is a basic human entitlement essential for maintaining good health. Indeed, sleep is so important that the World Health Organisation (WHO) document several categories of adverse health and social effects from noise.

Sleep disturbance can cause hearing impairment, daytime functioning, mental health problems, cognitive issues and negative social behaviour can be symptoms of being subjected to loud noise over a period of time. Sleep deprivation can also have a negative impact on body systems such as hormonal release, glucose regulation and cardiovascular function, leading to overall poor health.

Evidence has shown that the louder the noise, the worse the sleep. The quality of the noise is also an issue. Some noises can be subjectively annoying whilst others of the same level are not. It is well known that the noise of snoring is one that cannot be tolerated for long without disrupted sleep.

Some bed partners who sleep with their snorer every night try to sleep through the noise and ignore it. However, it has been shown that although you may sleep through the night, the quality of sleep will be much reduced and you will not feel as refreshed in the morning as you should. Noise tends to reduce our deep refreshing sleep to more shallow sleep, and will also reduce dreaming sleep. It is well documented that bed partners of snorers have been found to be at risk of hearing loss due to continuous noise exposure.

Other partners find themselves re-locating to the spare room in the middle of the night in order to get a few hours of uninterrupted sleep. Many of them have feelings of guilt in leaving the bedroom – but they have a right to a good night's sleep. Nevertheless, the stress of the situation can put a great strain on the health and relationship of both partners.

So how can these issues be resolved?

The snorer must acknowledge the problem and take steps to resolve it. Snoring will not go away – it will only get worse if not addressed.

For some self-help remedies – visit the website: www.britishsnoring.co.uk for help & information.

Cracking Easter At Safari Park

West Midland Safari Park is 'eggcited' for their new Easter event from the 9th to 24th April, the Park has planned a whole host of fun, including an amazing competition, trail, chocolate prizes and the chance to meet our very own Easter Bunny.

'Bramble Bunny' will be ready in the Discovery Trail to say hello to guests, hand out chocolatey treats and even have his picture taken with them.

In Bramble's garden, guests will find a photo point. If guests post their picture with Bramble or at the photo point, on the Park's Facebook wall, they will be entered into a competition to win a fantastic prize of an overnight stay in one of the Park's Rhino Lodges, for up to six people.

There will be a chance for little 'eggplorers' to win chocolate, by helping Bramble locate his Easter eggs. In his haste to build his burrow, he misplaced some eggs which are now muddled up with some of the animal nests.

West Midland Safari Park is open daily for its summer season and all the Easter activities are included as part of the standard admission charge of £25.00 for adults, £20.00 for children aged 3-15 and £22.00 for concessions. Children under the age of three are free. Admission includes a Free Return Code to visit again within six months, only when booking online in advance, without a Tesco or ASDA voucher. Guests can also receive discounts for selected dates, when booking online at least two days in advance.

You can find more information about West Midland Safari Park is available from the Park's website www.wmsp.co.uk or by telephone 01299 402114

May Traditions

This May why not reconnect with some traditional customs to celebrate? There are many things that happen, from 'well dressings' to maypoles and morris dancing, here we look at where you can see some!

Well Dressing

An ancient custom known as Well Dressing is peculiar to England, and Derbyshire and Staffordshire in particular. The practice of well dressing dates back to the Celts but early Christians were not happy with the custom of dressing wells – they considered it water worship and promptly put an end to it!

Well dressing involves the decoration of springs and wells with pictures made from living plants and flowers, and usually happens in the summer and early autumn. Some places to visit well dressings are:

Chester Green Derby: At Marcus Street Well there are usually 3 dressings at the well at the end of Marcus Street. Chester Green is located on Mansfield Road, Derby, about 1.5km north of the City Centre. Use DE1 3SA for nearest map location.

Etwall: There are up to nine Well Dressings to be seen in the village. The village sometimes hosts Have-a-Go Well Dressing, providing a demonstration and an opportunity for everyone to try their hand, is made in a marquee on The Green during the course of the weekend. Etwall is located just off the A516. Use DE65 6LP for map location.

Tissington: There are up to seven Well Dressings. Tissington was the first village to re-introduce well dressing in 1349, after the village managed to escape a terrible outbreak of the Black Death that swept through England at this time. Tissington is located to the east of the A515 Ashbourne to Buxton road, north of Fenny Bentley. Use DE6 1RA for map location.

Maypole

A maypole is a tall wooden pole erected as a part of various European folk festivals, around which a maypole dance often takes place.

The festivals usually are held on 1st May. In some places the Maypole is a permanent feature that is only utilised during the festival, although in other cases it is erected specifically for the purpose before being taken down again.

The good folk of Wellow in Nottinghamshire are rightly proud of their permanent Maypole and public May Day celebration take place on the Village Green every year on the Bank Holiday nearest to May Day. Use NG22 7EW for map location.

Morris Dancing

This is a traditional English form of folk dancing from the 15th Century, often performed on May Day by groups of men or women who wear different outfits depending on which part of the country they are from. Their clothes are white with coloured belts across the chest. There is Morris dancing at Mercia Marina at 8:30 on the 12th May

If you're interested in having a go at Morris Dancing, why not get in touch with the Ryknild Rabble. You can visit their website at: ryknildrabble.co.uk

How to Treat Cat Fleas

Both the cat and the home must be treated at the same time to break the cycle. Veterinary treatments are safer and more effective than products available in supermarkets. Most are topical (applied to the back of the neck) or tablets. At the same time, treat the remaining flea population off the cat with a spray which you can also purchase from your vet but please remember to follow the instructions on the tin (do not spray the cat!). Products purchased from pet shops etc won't do the job as effectively as those purchased from your vet so don't waste your money.

Vacuum daily and pay attention to nooks and crannies along skirting boards and under furniture. Empty the bag or canister each time you vacuum. Wash your cat's bedding weekly in hot water and hang outside in the sun.

Follow these instructions and your home and your cat will soon be flea free!!

Local Chippy in Top 50!

The Alrewas Fryer in Alrewas has been named as one of the UK's 50 Best Fish & Chip Takeaways 2021/2022 - the only chippy in the County to make the prestigious list.

It follows two rounds of mystery dining by leading trade publication Fry Magazine in which an anonymous judge sampled the food and assessed key aspects of the business from the cleanliness of the premises to staff knowledge and professionalism to social media presence.

Alrewas Fryer scored an impressive 98% with the mystery diner praising the high quality fish, menu choices, the smart and professional staff, freshly cooked to order food and covid safe measures.

"The chips were perfect, crisp on the outside and fluffy on the inside as proper chips should be," was just one of the positive comments, alongside customer service with the mystery diner noting: "The staff were friendly and efficient in their service."

Alex Eleftheriou, Owner of Alrewas Fryer said: "it's a huge honour to be recognised for all our hard work and effort we put in to producing quality Fish & Chips!"

Reece Head, competition organiser, comments: "Fish and chip takeaways have really had to up their game over the past year in order to handle the growing number of click and collect and delivery orders generated as a result of Covid and integrate these new ways of working with their walk-in customers. "It is with great pleasure that we congratulate them on being one of the UK's 50 Best Fish & Chip Takeaways."

Life on the Allotment by Tim Brooks

From the early 19th century, there was sustained growth in the creation of allotments, sites created by rural landowners and the church. Urban allotments rented out to the working classes also appeared in this period, with plot numbers increasing from 243,000 in 1873, to 445,000 in 1890. To around 600, 000 in 1913. Food shortages after WW1 lead to even more being created. By 1914 there were 1,500,000 plots made, on land designated for growing food crops.

Sadly after WW2 things changed, as lifestyles altered and land was required for housing, industrial buildings and less interest. So many were lost to redevelopment of the land.

Today around 330,000 allotments exist in Britain. Many have long waiting lists, due to a lack of space for growing vegetables at home, as gardens are much smaller and folk have busier lifestyles generally. I myself am secretary and treasurer at our Bradmore Road Allotment site in Burton and not often do we have many vacant plots available.

We grow many crops ourselves, much is frozen too, for winter soups and stews. Things like runner beans, squashes, leeks, swedes, carrots, broad beans, parsnips, are all useful for winter use. We store squashes and pumpkins in our house as they make great soups and pies.

One thing allotments are good for is exercise and fresh air. You don't need a gym membership! Plus you meet interesting folk and its a great place to escape the daily stresses in life.

You could of course buy everything from a supermarket, but chances are your shop bought veggies and fruit have been sprayed with insecticides. I never use sprays, preferring growing without any chemicals at all. Even avoiding slug pellets, which are a big contributor to killing many hedgehogs in the UK. We grow enough for ourselves and rarely lose much to bugs.

We need a balance of wildlife and insects to help in a garden. Bees are lower in numbers now, so we grow sunflowers on our Allotment. The Bees love them and later on the birds eat the seeds. Its always a good idea to grow flowers among your vegetable beds. For instance, growing Calendula (marigolds) planted next to runner beans, help deter black fly aphids. We need Bees for pollination, so plenty of flowers can only be a good thing.

We find a polytunnel invaluable too, as you can grow crops that need a warmer climate, like tomatoes, chillies and peppers, plus aubergines.

As secretary of our Allotment association, I recently decided to apply for a community lottery grant, as we needed a few new sheds. We were delighted to be successful with our application. So now this spring this project should take shape. Its important for the community to have these places to enjoy the outdoors and experience growing their own food, along with their families, bringing their children along and they can all get involved and maybe the children will get a passion for growing things too. This way, allotments will thrive for future generations as well, protecting vital green areas.

Easter Eggstravaganza

National Forest Adventure Farm, is celebrating the return of its Easter Eggstravaganza event from 9th to 24th April 2022 and for the first time ever, the staging of a live and interactive Easter pantomime.

The farm's newly renovated animal barn will provide dedicated spaces for children to meet some of the animals, helping families to make lots of wonderful memories.

Brand new for Easter 2022, is a lively, interactive pantomime. The Mystery of the Egg Snaffler gets everyone involved in helping Mrs Rumpadump find the Easter Bunny's chocolate which has been stolen by the evil Egg Snaffler.

Other activities, include the popular trail where families ride on the Easter Eggspress tractor and trailer ride to the Bunny Woods. Following the woodland path, families will meet some entertaining animals before finding the Easter Bunny who is giving out chocolate to children and adults!

Tom Robinson, joint owner of the farm attraction said: "We are excited to be bringing back our Easter Eggstravaganza after a two-year break due to covid and launching two new activities at the same time.

"Our visitors really love our live shows, and our special new Easter pantomime will definitely bring lots of fun and laughter. We are really pleased to be investing in new experiences so families can enjoy a big day out and make lots of happy memories along the way."

Senior Pets

A talk with Paul Uglow

Secretary Manager at Northbrook Laboratories

Thanks to better care, pets are living longer now than they ever have before – but as pets get older, they require a little extra care and attention.

Regular health checks with your vet can detect problems in older pets before they become advanced or life-threatening, and improve the chances of a longer and healthier life for your pet. But what can we do as owners to help our pet?

Thursday 24th
March 7pm

ScarsdaleVets is a pet care centre for all. Every dog and cat comes, looking for the right advice on their pet's health. Together they make you through some of the commonest advice that ScarsdaleVets may experience as they get older. They'll also make you and help you to ensure your pet's health and happiness.

The talk will be hosted at 'Pride Veterinary Centre'

Light refreshments and a certificate of completion will be provided. Limited tickets available.

7 Signs Your Dog is Ageing by Scarsdale Vets

As our dogs age, we begin to see changes in their appearance and behaviour. While many of these changes are normal as a dog enters their golden years, it's important to be aware of the signs that could indicate your furry friend is unwell. Here at Scarsdale we have put together a list of seven signs that your dog is ageing, so that you can be proactive in monitoring their health and ensure they're living a full and happy life.

1. Your dog is slowing down and getting stiff

You may have seen from time to time your dog is taking a little longer to get up in the mornings, or they have more trouble with stairs or jumping up onto furniture, this could be a sign of stiffness. This could be a sign they are suffering from arthritis, which is quite common in ageing dogs as 80% of dogs over 8 suffer from it.

2. Your dog has trouble hearing or seeing

It can sometimes be tricky to decide whether your dog is losing their hearing or deciding to ignore you, but it could be a sign if your pooch always comes running for a treat! Loss of hearing isn't something you should particularly worried about if they're not experiencing pain or discomfort, but you may want to take extra care taking them off the lead.

3. Your dog is losing muscle mass

Thinks links to number 1, as it is key muscle mass is kept to keep them active and bouncy for as long as possible. Keeping your dog active with exercise and adjusting their diet would be the best actions to take moving forward

4. Smelly Breath

A whiffy breath could be one of the first things you spot as a dog mum or dad, and this could be a sign of gum diseases, which can become more severe with age. You may also see tartar developing around their teeth if you are in the habit of monthly mouth checks.

5. Sight Loss

Although this may be very gradual over time, you may notice your dog loses track of the ball during a game of fetch, or maybe lose a stick and come back with a completely different one! You may also see their eyes have a bluey white shine in their eyes, this could be nuclear sclerosis and is normal for older dogs.

6. Your dog is eating and drinking less than usual.

If you notice your dog leaving food in their bowl consistently, this could be a sign of a behavioural change in their eating. Older dogs may be less efficient digesting food, leading them to leave pieces of their meals. On the other side if the scale, older dogs can tend to have a slower metabolism, meaning they could gain weight too!

7. Grey Hairs

Many dog breeds will grow grey hairs and become a 'silver fox' as they start to age gracefully. Most commonly this can be seen around the mouth but this is completely normal for dogs as they age.

If you have noticed any of these signs in your dog and would like more information and advice for preventative measures, come to our Senior Pet Talk at Pride Veterinary Centre on March 24th at 7pm. Tickets can be booked online via our Eventbrite page: www.seniorpettalk.eventbrite.co.uk
